

BDB HAS STOPPED PROVIDING CODE ADVICE

November 30, 2015

The Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing has advised an Ontario municipality that the Building and Development Branch no longer provides opinions on provisions of the Ontario Building Code.

The Building Department of an Ontario Municipality recently requested the Building and Development Branch to provide advice on whether the Ontario Building Code requires toilet partitions in a room containing multiple water closets. Here is the response:

Hello ■■■■■■■■

The Branch does not provide opinions on code provisions.

If you wish, you may submit a proposed code change to Nancy Smith, Coordinator of Code Development.
